Submission of manuscript

Japanese Studies is published three times a year and welcomes original articles on any area of the study of Japan and Japanese language. Submissions should be addressed to Judith Snodgrass, Centre for Cultural Research, University of Western Sydney, Locked Bag 1797, Penrith South DC, NSW 1797, Australia. Fax: +61-2-9678-9610 (line 3); e-mail: japanese.studies@uws.edu.au.

Papers should normally be between 4000–8000 words, and should include an abstract of 100–150 words to facilitate the review process. Papers published in Japanese Studies are refereed internationally. To allow anonymous refereeing, author's name and institution should be typed on a separate sheet and submitted with the manuscript. For correspondence and offprints, the full postal address of the author should be submitted with the manuscript. Papers may be submitted by e-mail attachment. The following electronic formats are acceptable: text and tables in Microsoft Word or Wordperfect (Macintosh or PC), diagrams and figures in PICT, JPEG, GIF or TIFF formats.

Footnotes and referencing

Please use footnotes, not in-text citations. Please include a separate list of references. In book reviews, page references may be given within the text.

Tables and captions in illustrations

Tables should be typed on separate sheets and not included as part of the text. Tables and figures should be numbered. The captions to illustrations should be gathered together and printed on a separate sheet. The approximate position of tables, figures and illustrations should be indicated in the manuscript.

Figures

Please supply one set of artwork in finished form, suitable for reproduction. Photographs and other visual materials should be high-contrast black and white print. Permission to reproduce them must be obtained by the author(s) and acknowledgements included in the paper.

Citation style

Books

Joseph J. Tobin (Ed.), Re-Made in Japan: Everyday Life and Consumer Taste in a Changing Society. New Haven: Yale University Press, 1992.

Fujioka Nobukatsu et al., Kyōkasho ga oshienai rekishi. Tokyo: Sankei Shimbunsha, 1996.

Chapters in books

Millie R. Creighton, 'The depāto: merchandising the West while selling Japaneseness', in Tobin (Ed.), Re-Made in Japan, 42–57.

Akiko Ōtake and Shūhei Hosokawa, 'Karaoke in East Asia: Modernisation, Japanisation, or Asianisation?', in Tōru

Mitsui and Shūhei Hosokawa (Eds), Karaoke Around the World: Global Technology, Local Singing. London: Routledge, 1998, 178–201.

Articles in journals and newspapers

Funada Hajime et al., 'Mutōha sōto shushōkōsen', Shokun (July 1995): 88–97.

'Kono kuni no "chisha" wa dare ka', Asahi shimbun, 4 January 1997, p. 5.

Titles of Japanese books, journals, and articles should be written in lower case except where proper nouns are used. Ibid. should be used where appropriate, but an abbreviated version of the title should be used in place of op. cit., for example: Ōtake and Hosokawa, 'Karaoke in East Asia', 186.

Quotes

Short quotes should be included in the text of the article using ‘single quotation marks’. Where quotation marks within the quote are required, “double quotation marks” should be used. Longer quotes should be commenced on a new line, indented and without quotation marks.

Use of Japanese Words

Japanese words used in articles should be written in italics. Where this is not possible, underline them. It is not necessary to italicise those words, such as kabuki or samurai, that are commonly used in English. Long vowels should be indicated with circumflexes (e.g. ginkō). Japanese names should be written with family name first except when citing authors of English language books and articles.

Numbers

Numbers below ten should be written in full. Higher numbers should be written in figures except where they occur at the beginning of a sentence. Large numbers such as 34,000,000 should be written 34 million. Dates should be written 21 August 1997. Use nineteenth century rather than 19th century; use 1990s (no apostrophe) not nineties or 90s.

Offprints

Corresponding authors will receive their article by e-mail as a complete PDF. This allows the author to print up to 50 copies, free of charge, and disseminate them to colleagues. Alternatively, corresponding authors can, if requested, receive 50 offprints. A copy of the journal will be sent by post to all corresponding authors after publication. Additional copies of the journal can be purchased at the author’s preferential rate of £15.00 per copy.

Copyright

It is a condition of publication that authors vest copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in Japanese Studies Association of Australia. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the article elsewhere after publication providing that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis Ltd. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.
